

PRESS RELEASE: J Carnes and Son Roofing. [May 2025]

J. Carnes & Son Roofing Achieves Top National Honor with GAF 3-Star President's Club Award

J. Carnes & Son Roofing has been named a GAF 3-Star President's Club Award Winner, a rare national distinction that places the company in the top 0.08% of roofing contractors across North America.

Hampton Falls, NH, May 12, 2025 --- J. Carnes & Son Roofing, a fixture in the New Hampshire and Southern Maine roofing scene for more than three decades, has been awarded GAF's highest honor: the 3-Star President's Club Award. This elite recognition not only reflects the company's technical mastery and customer service excellence but also distinguishes it among the nation's most trusted roofing professionals.

What makes this GAF Master Elite® Contractor honor so significant?

Out of thousands of GAF-certified roofers across the nation, only a tiny fraction, which is 0.08%, earn this status. It's a benchmark of consistency, skill, and above all, trust.

Founder Jason Carnes, who began the company with a vision rooted in craftsmanship and community values, shared his thoughts on this milestone: "It's humbling to see how far we've come. This award feels like a real acknowledgment of the effort we've all put in over the years. Every roof we install, every homeowner we serve, we do it with care and commitment. That's always been our way."

Known for its precision roofing work on everything from family homes to large-scale commercial properties, J. Carnes & Son Roofing has built its reputation on more than just shingles and siding. The company's foundation is a deep belief in doing right by the customer every single time.

Whether they're replacing a storm-damaged roof or installing energy-efficient skylights, the J. Carnes & Son team approaches each project with the same level of focus and integrity. That dedication also extends beyond job sites. Since 2019, the company has partnered with Toys for Tots, matched local toy donations, supported area schools, and even donated a full roof replacement to a local church.

"Our work doesn't end with the installation," said Julie Carnes, co-owner and Customer Relations Officer at the company. "We're here to serve. That means giving back, supporting our community, and making sure every client knows they're in good hands."

As a leading name in residential roofing in New Hampshire, the company offers industry-best warranties and has earned certifications from major manufacturers like Owens Corning and GAF. For homeowners concerned about cost, the company provides flexible financing options to help ease the burden without cutting corners.

Their continued success is proof that old-fashioned values, when combined with modern materials and top-tier training, still go a long way. And with the GAF President's Club distinction now under their belt, this leading contractor in commercial roofing New Hampshire has once again raised the bar for what customers can expect from their local roofer.
